INVESTING IN INFRASTRUCTURE FOR THE FUTURE

The Malinauskas Government's first State Budget delivers on a suite of infrastructure projects that will create jobs, provide a boost to roads, the health system, and shore up the state's education facilities.

The government continues its commitment to the completion of the North-South Corridor and the new Women's and Children's Hospital.

The State Budget's $18.6 billion infrastructure commitments over the four years from 2022-23 include:

- $593 million for the Hydrogen Jobs Plan
- $400 million in partnership with the Commonwealth for the upgrade of Marion Road between Anzac Highway and Cross Road
- $120 million in partnership with the Commonwealth to fund an on-off ramp from the Southern Expressway at Majors Road
- $208.8 million to build five new technical colleges
- $177.5 million for the public housing improvement program
- $127 million to begin construction on a new Mount Barker Hospital
- $30.3 million for sustainment works to the current Women's and Children's Hospital
- $28 million to establish a North East Cancer centre at Modbury Hospital
- $12 million to begin the first stage of major developments at the Port Pirie Hospital Emergency
- $10 million to upgrade Kingscote Hospital
- $8 million to upgrade ageing hospital infrastructure at the Port August Hospital
- $8 million to upgrade the Mount Gambier Hospital emergency department
- $8 million for the first stage of a major upgrade to the Naracoorte Hospital
- $2.5 million to construct additional accommodation at Yadu Health Clinic
- $5 million to upgrade the Mount Gambier TAFE campus
- $118.8 million to construct additional accommodation for more students at Adelaide Botanic High School and Students at Roma Mitchell Secondary College

Quotes attributable to Stephen Mullighan

We are making serious investment infrastructure across a range of disciplines – this will mean we are building the State up and providing South Australians with the health care and education facilities they deserve.

Not only that, it also means more jobs and more work for the construction industry.

Quotes attributable to Tom Koutsantonis

Investing in infrastructure in our State is an important part of helping to rebuilding South Australia’s economy following the effects of COVID-19.

Unlike the former Government, we won’t be pulling the state into a valley of death when it comes to important infrastructure projects.
